Why Peru

Our country

Peru is full of color and mixture of cultures in which history and modernity coexist in total harmony in its architecture, cuisine, arts but most importantly, in its people who keep traditions alive.

It is an extremely diverse country with 11 ecological regions and 84 of the world's 117 different types of "life zone". It is the third largest country in South America and one of the 20 largest countries in the world.

Our Archaeological richness

More than 10,000 years of history

8 sites declared Cultural Heritage by UNESCO

180 historical places and museums.

Home to one of the New 7 Wonders of the World

Our Colorful traditions & people

Peru has over 3,000 festivals along the year with hundreds of dances that represent the joyful spirit of the Peruvian people.

Our Astonishing wildlife

Privileged destination for nature lovers, as it has 84 of the 104 life zones that exist on our planet.

Peru's 60 protected natural areas hold 10% of all mammals living on the planet and 20% of the world's birds.

Our Incomparable cuisine

The World Travel Awards named Peru South America's Best Culinary Destination for 4 years in a row.
