About Peru

Peru is a country full of color and mixture of cultures in which history and modernity coexist in total harmony in its architecture, cuisine, arts but most importantly, in its people who keep traditions alive.

It is an extremely diverse country, with 11 ecological regions and 84 of the world's 117 different types of "life zone". It is the third largest country in South America and one of the 20 largest countries in the world.

Why Peru? Our Legacy: Archaeological richness

- More than 10,000 years of history, 8 sites declared Cultural Heritage by UNESCO, 180 historical places and museums.
- Home to one of the New 7 Wonders of the World with all the mysticism of the Inca Empire.

Colorful traditions & people

Peru has over 3,000 festivals along the year with hundreds of dances that represent the joyful spirit of the Peruvian people.

Why Peru?

Astonishing wildlife

Peru is a privileged destination for nature lovers, as it has 84 of the 104 life zones that exist on our planet.

Peru's 60 protected natural areas hold 10% of all mammals living on the planet and 20% of the world's birds.

Incomparable cuisine

The World Travel Awards named Peru South America's Best Culinary Destination for 4 years in a row.

Three Peruvian Restaurants Among World's 50 Best:

Central Restaurant, from chef Virgilio Martinez ranked 4th best restaurant in the world and 1st of South America

Astrid & Gaston, from the recognized chef Gastón Acurio and wife Astrid Gutsche ranked 14th best restaurant in the world and 3rd of South America

Maido ranked 44th best restaurant in the world and South America's fifth.

Sacred Valley

A close-up photograph of a person's hands working on a textile. The person is wearing a vibrant red garment with intricate, multi-colored embroidery in shades of green, yellow, blue, and pink. The embroidery features geometric and floral patterns. The hands are positioned over a wooden frame, likely part of a traditional weaving loom. The background is slightly blurred, showing more of the person's attire and the surrounding environment.

- The Sacred Valley of the Incas (Urubamba Valley) is home of picturesque communities, impressive terraces and several important archaeological sites.
- In Inca times, the valley was the breadbasket of the Empire
- It's still important for agriculture, as farmers plant the same fields they did in Inca times with the same crops
